WCU kicks off yearlong celebration of 125 years

A yearlong celebration of WCU's 125th anniversary kicked off Thursday, Jan. 23, as the campus and surrounding community paused to reflect on the institution's growth from a one-room schoolhouse with 18 students to a comprehensive regional university with an enrollment of more than 10,100 – that, and to eat cake and enjoy a fashion show. ... 1960s version of 'A Doll's House' to stage Feb. 12-16

New York City in 1962 – a time when feminism was beginning to put the brakes on patriarchy – will be the setting of the version of "A Doll's House" to stage at Western Carolina University from Wednesday through Sunday, Feb. 12-16. Adapted by WCU faculty member Brenda Lilly, the show is connected to WCU's 2013-14 campuswide interdisciplinary learning theme, "1960s: Take It All In." ... \(CONTINUE READING\)
