

the Reporter

Western Carolina University Faculty & Staff News

WCU students join community volunteers for the Haywood Pathways Center project.

OCT 1-8, 2014

thereporter.wcu.edu

WCU volunteers assist with construction and raise nearly $3,000 for prison 'flip' project

Several hundred WCU community members stepped forward to help launch the new Haywood Pathways Center. They included College of Business faculty members Julie Johnson-Busbin and James Busbin, who helped project organizers with marketing aspects of competing for – and winning – the grand prize in Guaranteed Rate's national Ultimate Neighborhood Give Back Challenge contest. ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

Students to chronicle marching band appearance in Macy's Parade

A team of WCU students studying communication will be accompanying WCU's Pride of the Mountains Marching Band to New York City for the 2014 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, but not as merely spectators. Instead, the group will be working to produce broadcast stories that chronicle the band's trip and performance. ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

Auditions set for radio production of 'Robin Hood'

Open auditions are scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 2, for Western Carolina University's 2015 spring semester staged radio broadcast of "Robin Hood – The Legacy." ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

WCU physical therapy group assists with NC's first 'stroke camp'

Looking back at his experience as a volunteer at the first "stroke camp" held in North Carolina, WCU physical therapy student Joey Marion wrote about how participating in the summer camp for stroke survivors and their caregivers provided an opportunity to align himself with "some amazing individuals who have persevered through some difficult and life-changing moments." ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

BRIEFS | thereporter.wcu.edu/category/briefs

UNC system highlights program directed by Cruz with three participating WCU faculty members

NC Senate candidates debate Thursday

Mountain Heritage Day draws crowd

WCU's fall foliage forecaster says outlook improving for WNC leaf-peepers

WCU astronomer hosting Oct. 8 eclipse viewing at Jackson County Airport

'Militarization' of American policing to be focus of Oct. 7 forum at WCU

Brannon wins grant to work on Cherokee printmaking
Student proposals sought for Discovery Forum by Oct. 10

ACHIEVEMENTS | thereporter.wcu.edu/category/achievements

Read about the latest achievements of faculty and staff, including Melissa English and Roger Hartley.

HEADLINES FROM WCU NEWS SERVICES | news-prod.wcu.edu

WCU offering monthly photography classes in Cullowhee, Asheville
Art education students host activities for children Oct. 29 at WCU
'Broadway's Next Hit Musical' to feature song, improv, comedy at WCU on Oct. 24
WCU designated 'military-friendly school' after national survey

EVENTS | calendar.wcu.edu

Oct. 2 | Latino Heritage Expo
Oct. 2 | Smoky Mountain Quilters Guild Show
Oct. 2 | NC Senate Debate
Oct. 2-4 | Mainstage Series Performance: "Elemeno Pea"
Oct. 3 | Movie: "Maleficent"
Oct. 3-4 | Smoky Mountain Quilters Guild Show
Oct. 6 | Public Demonstration: "Unarmed"
Oct. 7 | Octubafest/Mike Schallock & Jamie Hafner
Oct. 8 | Horn Studio Recital
Oct. 9 | Guest recital: Elaine Saloio, flute

HIGHER EDUCATION NEWSWATCH | news-prod.wcu.edu/higher-education-newswatch

Community rallies for three-day makeover of Hazelwood prison | Smoky Mountain News (coverage of 'extreme make-over' of Haywood County prison, a project that involved WCU students, faculty and staff)

WCU students help flip a prison | The Mountaineer

Sharing breakfast with Ty | The Mountaineer (story on prison project)

Cullowhee development standards have been drawn up; will the community buy-in? | Smoky Mountain News

N.C. House candidates Queen and Clampitt draw distinctions during debate | Smoky Mountain News (coverage of debate held on campus)

Crowds flock to Cullowhee for Mountain Heritage Day | The Sylva Herald

Bethel Community Wins Award | The Mountaineer – photo (about Mountain Heritage Day and local award winner)

Asking for help | Inside Higher Ed (regular column by Nate Kreuter)

Western Carolina football team learning to win | Asheville Citizen-Times

Growing, and Growing Vulnerable | New York Times (about impact of climate change on barrier islands; includes comment from Rob Young)

Preservation Foundation awards $2.4 million in grants | Cherokee One Feather (includes grant for WCU's language revitalization efforts)

Printmaking demo set for Thursday in Bryson City | Asheville Citizen-Times (about demonstration by adjunct art instructor Frank Brannon)

Mountain Heritage Day | WLOS News 13

Moffitt district favors GOP, but experts see close race | Asheville Citizen-Times (about legislative race; includes comment from Chris Cooper)

Appalachian Culture Series to cover murder ballads, paternalism, cheap labor | The State (Columbia, S.C.) (includes comment from Ron Rash)

WNC writers talk about wilderness Friday in Asheville | Asheville Citizen-Times (about new book edited by Annette Debo)

Leaves may peak later than usual this fall | Hendersonville Times-News (includes comment from Kathy Mathews)

WCU expert: Fall foliage outlook improving for WNC | Asheville Citizen-Times (about Kathy Mathews' updated fall foliage forecast)

Fall colors on the way | Winston-Salem Journal (includes comment from Kathy Mathews)

WCU's 40th Mountain Heritage Day features David Holt | The Sylva Herald

Kim Blair: Hot topic for a hot planet | Pensacola (Fla.) News Journal (about sea-level rise; includes comment from Rob Young)

Georgia company to develop area on WCU's main campus | The Sylva Herald (updating the mixed-use development on WCU campus)

Greensboro area police departments participating in N.C. pedestrian, bicycle safety program | The Legal Examiner (about Greensboro area police participating in an pedestrian bike safety program that also involves WCU)

Polar vortex prompts review into whether firm gas service is more appropriate | SNL Energy (about N.C. gas utilities, polar vortex and impact on customers including WCU with comment from Lauren Bishop)

ATHLETICS | catamountsports.com

Men's golf advances to 13th at Cardinal Intercollegiate

Western Carolina University Athletics Hall of Fame - Constitution

Football: Spearman Robinson named SoCon Offensive Player of the Week

Poston looks to repeat as men's golf heads to Louisville

Submit story ideas and suggestions to The Reporter
via e-mail at reporter@wcu.edu.

the Reporter

Western Carolina University Faculty & Staff News

WCU students join community volunteers for the Haywood Pathways Center project.

OCT 1-8, 2014

thereporter.wcu.edu

WCU volunteers assist with construction and raise nearly $3,000 for prison 'flip' project

Several hundred WCU community members stepped forward to help launch the new Haywood Pathways Center. They included College of Business faculty members Julie Johnson-Busbin and James Busbin, who helped project organizers with marketing aspects of competing for – and winning – the grand prize in Guaranteed Rate's national Ultimate Neighborhood Give Back Challenge contest. ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

Students to chronicle marching band appearance in Macy's Parade

A team of WCU students studying communication will be accompanying WCU's Pride of the Mountains Marching Band to New York City for the 2014 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, but not as merely spectators. Instead, the group will be working to produce broadcast stories that chronicle the band's trip and performance. ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

Auditions set for radio production of 'Robin Hood'

Open auditions are scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 2, for Western Carolina University's 2015 spring semester staged radio broadcast of "Robin Hood – The Legacy." ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

WCU physical therapy group assists with NC's first 'stroke camp'

Looking back at his experience as a volunteer at the first "stroke camp" held in North Carolina, WCU physical therapy student Joey Marion wrote about how participating in the summer camp for stroke survivors and their caregivers provided an opportunity to align himself with "some amazing individuals who have persevered through some difficult and life-changing moments." ... \(CONTINUE READING\)

BRIEFS | thereporter.wcu.edu/category/briefs

UNC system highlights program directed by Cruz with three participating WCU faculty members

NC Senate candidates debate Thursday

Mountain Heritage Day draws crowd

WCU's fall foliage forecaster says outlook improving for WNC leaf-peepers

WCU astronomer hosting Oct. 8 eclipse viewing at Jackson County Airport

'Militarization' of American policing to be focus of Oct. 7 forum at WCU

Brannon wins grant to work on Cherokee printmaking
Student proposals sought for Discovery Forum by Oct. 10

ACHIEVEMENTS | thereporter.wcu.edu/category/achievements

Read about the latest achievements of faculty and staff, including Melissa English and Roger Hartley.

HEADLINES FROM WCU NEWS SERVICES | news-prod.wcu.edu

WCU offering monthly photography classes in Cullowhee, Asheville
Art education students host activities for children Oct. 29 at WCU
'Broadway's Next Hit Musical' to feature song, improv, comedy at WCU on Oct. 24
WCU designated 'military-friendly school' after national survey

EVENTS | calendar.wcu.edu

Oct. 2 | Latino Heritage Expo
Oct. 2 | Smoky Mountain Quilters Guild Show
Oct. 2 | NC Senate Debate
Oct. 2-4 | Mainstage Series Performance: "Elemeno Pea"
Oct. 3 | Movie: "Maleficent"
Oct. 3-4 | Smoky Mountain Quilters Guild Show
Oct. 6 | Public Demonstration: "Unarmed"
Oct. 7 | Octubafest/Mike Schallock & Jamie Hafner
Oct. 8 | Horn Studio Recital
Oct. 9 | Guest recital: Elaine Saloio, flute

HIGHER EDUCATION NEWSWATCH | news-prod.wcu.edu/higher-education-newswatch

Community rallies for three-day makeover of Hazelwood prison | Smoky Mountain News (coverage of 'extreme make-over' of Haywood County prison, a project that involved WCU students, faculty and staff)

WCU students help flip a prison | The Mountaineer

Sharing breakfast with Ty | The Mountaineer (story on prison project)

Cullowhee development standards have been drawn up; will the community buy-in? | Smoky Mountain News

N.C. House candidates Queen and Clampitt draw distinctions during debate | Smoky Mountain News (coverage of debate held on campus)

Crowds flock to Cullowhee for Mountain Heritage Day | The Sylva Herald

Bethel Community Wins Award | The Mountaineer – photo (about Mountain Heritage Day and local award winner)

Asking for help | Inside Higher Ed (regular column by Nate Kreuter)

Western Carolina football team learning to win | Asheville Citizen-Times

Growing, and Growing Vulnerable | New York Times (about impact of climate change on barrier islands; includes comment from Rob Young)

Preservation Foundation awards $2.4 million in grants | Cherokee One Feather (includes grant for WCU's language revitalization efforts)

Printmaking demo set for Thursday in Bryson City | Asheville Citizen-Times (about demonstration by adjunct art instructor Frank Brannon)

Mountain Heritage Day | WLOS News 13

Moffitt district favors GOP, but experts see close race | Asheville Citizen-Times (about legislative race; includes comment from Chris Cooper)

Appalachian Culture Series to cover murder ballads, paternalism, cheap labor | The State (Columbia, S.C.) (includes comment from Ron Rash)

WNC writers talk about wilderness Friday in Asheville | Asheville Citizen-Times (about new book edited by Annette Debo)

Leaves may peak later than usual this fall | Hendersonville Times-News (includes comment from Kathy Mathews)

WCU expert: Fall foliage outlook improving for WNC | Asheville Citizen-Times (about Kathy Mathews' updated fall foliage forecast)

Fall colors on the way | Winston-Salem Journal (includes comment from Kathy Mathews)

WCU's 40th Mountain Heritage Day features David Holt | The Sylva Herald

Kim Blair: Hot topic for a hot planet | Pensacola (Fla.) News Journal (about sea-level rise; includes comment from Rob Young)

Georgia company to develop area on WCU's main campus | The Sylva Herald (updating the mixed-use development on WCU campus)

Greensboro area police departments participating in N.C. pedestrian, bicycle safety program | The Legal Examiner (about Greensboro area police participating in an pedestrian bike safety program that also involves WCU)

Polar vortex prompts review into whether firm gas service is more appropriate | SNL Energy (about N.C. gas utilities, polar vortex and impact on customers including WCU with comment from Lauren Bishop)

ATHLETICS | catamountsports.com

Men's golf advances to 13th at Cardinal Intercollegiate

Western Carolina University Athletics Hall of Fame - Constitution

Football: Spearman Robinson named SoCon Offensive Player of the Week

Poston looks to repeat as men's golf heads to Louisville

Submit story ideas and suggestions to The Reporter
via e-mail at reporter@wcu.edu.

